STABBING AFFRAY BETWEEN BOYS .- Yesterday, two boys attending School No. 10, in Fifteenth street. Gewanus, commenced quarrellog during intermission. One of the boys, named John Spannen, aged eight years, was engaged in whitting a stick, when a boy named Elisha Thetford, aged nine years, said or did. something which irritated Shannon, who plunged his haife into Thetford's back, inflicting a serious bat not a dangerous round. The wounded bay was taken to his parents' residence, in Third avenue, where he was avended to by Dr. Williams. Shannon was taken into custody by the Eighth Word Police, and held to await the result of the injuries inflicted.

Cononer's INCREST ON THE VICTIMS OF THE PIRE IN PLYMOUTH STREET.-Coroner Horton held as in quest yesterday upon the victims of the fire in Plymouth street on Sunday night, named James McGin ness and Daniel Alcord. The only witness examined was Mary McGinness, daughter of deceased, aged 18 years. She stated, in offect, that her mother and berself were sitting in the back room, fourth story, No. 143 Plymouth street, with the children, three in number. Her father was in the front room, and Mr. Alcord kept his company during the afternoon. Her father had drank some, but Mr. Alcord never drank any spirituous liquor. Mr. Alcord left in the evening. Her father was sitting in a rocking chair in the front room, and fell asieep. Her mother and herself and the children were in the back room, sitting on chairs and dozing. The windows were open, and a strong breeze ble through the rooms. The door between the front and back rooms was open and was blown shut.

the front and back rooms was open and was blown shut.

A closet filled with shavings and kindling wood was near the door; a lighted caudle was on the mantle liese shout five feet from the closet, and witness did not know how the fire could have originated unless the snuff from the caudle was blown among the shavings, which, from their proximity could easily have been the case; her father had no light; there were no matches in his room, and the fire could not have originated there; Mr. Alcord left in the evening; he heard the cry of fire and ran up stairs; the witness heard the cry of fire on the stairs; went out to see, and herself and mother took the children and ran out into the street; Mr. Alcord went into the front room to get witnesse father out, and that was the last seen of him alive.

After taking the evidence of this witness, the Coroner's Jury rendered a verdict of " Death by suffocation in the case of James McGinness, and the same " in that of Danill Alcord."

THE JOINT BOARD OF ALDERMEN AND SUPERVIScas.—The Joint Board held a meeting yesterday, when the report of the Committee as to the amount required for the expenses of the custing year (as heretofore published) was prepointers of the emering year (as heretofore published) was presented. Alderman Stansbury presented a minority report, in which he objects to raising more than $410,000 for the Transt Institution; is in favor of maintaining the same amount for Educational purposes this year as last year, and is opposed to making appropriations to Protestant Orphan Asyloms to the neglect of Cathelle Orphan Asyloms. He objects to the introduction of water and hasters into the City Hall. The building, he contends, is too small for the amount of business transacted therein, and intimates that an addition should be constructed before expensive improvements are entered upon. He also objects to appointing special policemen for Washington Park, and contends that the Metropolitical Police are sufficient to guard it. The communication was laid over, and the Board adjourned until Friday next.

Decision against the City.—Joseph J. Marvin brought an action against the city for salary as Cierk of the Commissioners for Williamsburgh, Improvements. The Logislature fixed the salary at $1,000 a year. The Common Connect passed a resolution fixing the salary at $1 a year, this virtually leforing the act of the Legislature, and upon this the Courtoller refused to pay the salary. The Court declared that the Common Connect had no power to set asade an act of the Legislature, and rendered a decision in favor of plaintiff. Damages $590, being the whole amount claimed.

New Avenue to Flushing.—The grading for the new avenue from Hunter's Point to Flushing is rapidly progressing. It is nearly finished across the meadow, as is also a bridge across the creek. It will be completed by the let of August.

THE CITY CROPS.—The grass on Washington Park, sbout thirty acres, was sold at an if in on Sabirday to the highest bidder. The crop was knocked down to Mr. William Himman for $50.

BATHING IS PUBLIC.-The Eighth Ward Police arrested a number of toys on Sinday for bithing along the river-front, in full view of residences on Third avenue. They were fined $1 each yesterday by Justice Cornwell. INJURED BY A COW .- A child named Conningham INJURED BY A COW.—A child named Continguam seriously injured by a caw in front of its parents door, in Birth avenue, near Butler street, on Sunday. Cowe, horses and soats run at large in the Eighth and Ninth Wards, and accident, requestly occur. About a week alone a little boy was killed by a borse which was permitted to run at large in the Eighth Ward. There repeated occurrences will probably imped the authorities to be more vigilant for the future in enforcing the existing ordinances.

BURGLARIES.—On Sunday night the burglars were again at work in the Thirzeenth (Vard, Z. D. The house of Mr. Valentine, No. 83 Fourth street, was entered, and the thieves commenced to work, when private watchman Seriven had his attention structed by the cries of the lumates; but before measures could be taken for the capture of the thieves they had ex-The house of Dr. Brigham in South Eighth street, E. D., was catered on Sunday night and robbed of a quantity of silver ware

Case of Malfractice.—The Coroner was called on Sunday, to view the body of the wife of Patrick Kinney, No. 14 Rapelye street, who had died in giving birth to twins. It appears that a female had been composed to perform the services of a physician, and the patient and twins also died under her treatment. One of the children was born on Friday, and the woman died in giving birth to the other, on Sanday morning. A physician was sent for on the latter occasion, but it was teen too little to accomplish anything. The woman, Mrs. Lodge, was taken into custody to await the result of the Coroner's investigation. RUN OVER .- A lad named John Roberts, who was playing in York street, near Jay street, on Sunday evening, was run over by a carriage, and seriously injured. The father of the boy conveyed him to his residence, No. 36 Front street. The occurrence was accidental.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE EUCLEIAN SO-CIETY.

The Anniversary exercises of the Eucleian Society of

The Anniversary exercises of the Eacleian Society of the New York University took place last evening in the large hall of the University Building, Washington Park. The audience was not very large.

After a performance by Dedworth's band, and prayer by the Rev. Prof. Martin, the President, Mr. A. A. Kedfield, and the Rev. Joseph P. Thompson, D. D.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson and that he had selected as the subject of his oration, "Literary Culture for Educated Men"—a topic apparently, but not really paradoxical. He commenced by illustrating the functions, the beauty, and the importance of Language. The classics of the dead languages he recommended should be studied, not mechanically, but with a regard for the genius of their inspiration. To study language, we must go back not only to the old classics, to Shakespeare, and to Milton, but to the fountain at which they fed. Next to a perfect mastery of language in literary culture, stands the but to the fountain at which they fed. Next to a perfect mastery of language in literary culture, stands the knowledge of history. The underlying spirit of history should be cultivated, as well as the simple attainment of its facts. In the story of human life, ages ago, consisting of battles, coronations and festivals, we find a field of greater interest and greater importance than we do in the simple fact of the past existence of a saurian or an oolite. In the study of history, we should inquire how those who preceded us acted their part in life. Thirdly, the culture referred to would be incomplete without the perception of an asthetic aspect of science. We may love and approciate the beauties of art and science without aspiring to be artists. Esthetic culture commends itself to us simply as a source of pure enjoyment—in a word, of the reality and experience of which the present world of business contentions. rience of which the present world of business conten-tion knows very little. The speaker was greeted at the close with enthusiastic applause.

The poet of the evening, the Rev. Henry M. Purker, of the Rutgers Institute of this city, was then introduced, and delivered a poem on Independence, national and individual.

The Chairman then announced that another and similar anniversary of the Phi Beta Gamma Society would take place in the University Hall this evening, when the Rev. Mr. Hiscox will deliver an oration.

The audience then dispersed.

The Rev. J. G. Oucken having addressed to the American Bible Union an appeal for the means of supplying the armies now in the field in Europe with New Testaments Testaments, persons interested in the cause are sending in their contributions to C. A. Buckbee, Assistant Treasurer, No. 350 Broome street, New York. AMUSEMENTS.

WALLACK & THEATER .- " Many & Slip 'twist the Cap and the Lip" is the proverbial title of a new three-act play by Charles Gaylor, that was produced at this frouse last night, for the first time on any stage.

As an author, in "writing up" specialties of any particular performens, is necessarily much hampered by the characters which he must, will be aill-he, make the central ones of his rlay, it is no easy matter to write a taking comedy for the Florences. It is a com-paratively easy task to keep in mind the peculiarities of the "Irish boy and Yankee gal" during a short farce, and to put a summary end to the piece as soon as the spiciness of the various characterizations is worn off-but to preserve these outré individualities threaghout the more compl-x plot of an entire comedy wrigent making the audience unpleasantly conscious that there may be too much of even a good thing, is a task by no means easy of accomplishment. Mr Gaylor has been more successful in his undertaking than those who have preceded him, and has produced a piece interesting in story, sharp in characterization, and ca'culated to please the fickle public.

The plot of the play is as follows: Murphy McGrew (Mr. Flerence) is an old canal contractor who has amassed a fortune, and who is blessed with a pretty daughter, and bothered with a profligate son. This latter personage, being refused money for his excesses by his father, becomes an innocent party to the passing of a forged check, which document comes into the possession of an old usurer named " Adas Glynn" (Mr. Stoddart), who accuses the young man of the crime to his father and sister, and threatens to send him to jail unless the young lady will consent to marry him. This marriage is, however, pre-Sabbins" (Mrs. Florence), a Yankee housekeeper in the family of McGrew, and a clerk of McGrew's. It is discovered that the boy is not the guilty party, and by the opportune return of the former master of "Glynn," that worthy is convicted of divers and sundry crimes; the young couple, Miss McGrew and the confidential clerk, and the repentant profligate and Miss " Hopeful Sabbins" are hapily married.

Though the mainspring of the plot be somewhat rusty from frequent use, the play is interesting, and was received with much favor. All the actors were called out at the end of the piece.

Mr. Florence enacted the old Irishman with much more feeling and pathos than is usually supposed to be in the power of a comedian. In some of the scenes he was enthusiastically applauded. Mrs. Florence, in " Hopeful," had another of those Yankee characters in which she never fails to win the mirthful sympathies of her auditors. The new old song was a

We have never seen Mr. Stoddard so thoroughly excellent as he appeared in the part of the Miser. The rest of the parts are all respectably filled, and demand no special notice. The play is to be repeated METROPOLITAN THEATER. - Mr. George Jordan made his first appearance, since his Southern trip, at this house last night, as "Captain Absolute," in the Rivals. He was most enthusiastically received by an audience who seemed rejoiced to welcome back an old favorite.

LAURA KEESE'S THEATER .- A large audience as sembled here last night, to see the performance of another burlesque of the brothers Brough, on the favorite opera of "Masaniello."

Anies at the Stock Exchange Jose 27.

A favorable construction of the foreign news, in its financial details, and the arrival of two millions in gold by the Moses Taylor, gave more cheerfulness to the tone of the stock market, and there was a slight improvement in prices at the First Board. The largest business was in Michigan Southern Guaranteed, which advanced to 281 on the call, and was sold to the extent of about 2,900 shares. At the close the quotations fell off to 28, and the stock was slightly heavy again. New-York Central was steady at 731, with noderate transactions. Rock Island was rather firmer, with a very moderate business. Illinois Central, Galens, Toledo and Hudson River were all well sut-tained, without important change. Reading was from at an advance of $, but the business in it was limited. There was a good demand for Harlem Preferred which was taken freely at 35 on sellers' options, and closed in demand at the quotation. Michigan Central advanced 2 on small sales. Norwich and Worcester went at 36, and was steady. Panama decline 1 1 $\psi$ cent. There were no transactions in Eric registered, but the bidding price was 6 ar both sessions of the Board. The changes in State Stocks were unimportant, and the business in all classes of Bonds very light during the day. There has been a little more inquiry for the best classes of Rallway Bonds within a day or two, at improved quotations, but the sales have been in small lots. At the Second Board there was scercely a variation worth noting through the list o stocks dealt in, and the market was extremely dull. Taking into consideration the apathy of outsiders, and the unfavorable items which exercise an adverse influence upon a large majority of the stocks dealt in, the market is remarkably well systained. The closing prices were: For Missouri 6s, 857 #852; Virginia 6., 96, 297; Canton Company, 18, 219; Cumberland Coal Company, Preferred, 17 2174; New-York Central Railroad, 734 2734. Deposits for Treasury Notes, $142,000. Including the deposits at New-Orleans, Boston and Pintadelphis (and $200,000 to be deposited here to-morrow), there have been received altogether about $3,100,000 in gold on the last issue of Treasury Notes. Further deposits will increase the amount to $3,500,009, and the remaining $1,500,000 will be arranged directly with the Treasury at Washington, by exchange for over-notes of the previous issue. Mr. Cisco has had some negotiations with the Savings Banks and private capitalists, in regard to placing a further reissue of two and a half millions at 5] $\text{$\psi$ cent interest.} He has no doubt of success. One parcel of $100,000 has been taken at 5; P cent. The new 6 P cents, which can be bought when large sums are wanted at 10 7-16 P cent premium, are cheaper. There is quite an active demand, mostly at retail, for the issue awarded last week; and we hear of an aggregate of about $150,000 sold at 7-16 w | P cent premium for 6 P cents,

and | P cent premium for 5 | P cents.

The specie reserve of the banks as shown by the Weekly Statement is quite up to general expectation. The two millions received from California on Saturday lo not show in the average, nor does the mullon on the other hand which was shipped to Europe; of the specie about $900,000 went into the Sub-Treasury. Fre unfavorable features of the Statement are the large decsine in deposits and the small contraction in oane. The Loan line, has, however, been kept up by the reed of facilities to take up the new Treasury Notes. The Statement, as a whole, does not indicate ary immediate return to the lower rates of interest, although it is generally anticipated that after the first week of July there will be some relaxation.

Rockland and Superior Mines, reports as follows, under

Mr. Roberts, the General Agent of the Minnesota, Rockland and Superior Mines, reports as follows, under date of June 18, 1859, viz:

Minnesota.—"Herewith I send return of mineral product for May showing 19 4.5 time. This large increase over the yield of April (165 time) is whethy due to the marved improvement I have heretofore reperied as being developed on both our veins, as we have I ad only the same limited power at work since the actident to our boilers at No. 3 that in January last. Two of the new boilers are already in place, and we expect to raise steam on them next week. We shall then remove the old boiler now in use, and get in the balance of the set, so as to interrupt the work as little as possible by the process. We hope to have all on spete, and in full operation early in July. We shall run a chain from No. 6 engine to No. 9 shalt, when the whole length of the mine at all the shafts, except Nos. 7 and if, will then be worked by steam power, greatly facilitating our mining operations for the future. I must not onto to remark in conclusion that we are still finding copper in the conjonerate at the 'open out' (now No. 11 shaft), and are also obtaining some good mass a from the conjonerate in the eastern part of the mine."

Rockt.axio.—"The accompanying return of mineral raised in May, say 3't tums, show a greatfying increase over April although the stamps have been staps aded part of the time, to underson recessivy repairs. The expenses, on the other mand, have been less than far April and the proceeds for the two months will meet the expenditure for some period, even at the present price of copper, so that, in fact, the mine has been paying its way sines the last of April last. I have recently made a theroida and careful examination of all parts of the mine margnoond, and find the improvement heret-fore repuired even more favorable than lexameterion of all parts of the mine underground, and find the improvement heret-fore repuired even more favorable than lexameterion of all parts of the mine undergr on this location, where we are really getting a fine show, particulars of which I will give you by next mail, when I can probably speak with more creatinty and precision of what I now regard as highly encouraging indications." [Advertisement.]
